Turnstone Private Equity Fund I AS

Product name: Turnstone Private Equity Fund I AS, managed by Turnstone Alternative Investments AS (Turnstone)

1.1 Summary

Turnstone Private Equity Fund I AS (the Fund) promotes environmental and social characteristics but does not have as its objective a sustainable investment. The Fund is not committed to making one or more sustainable investments. The investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

The Fund may invest in private equity funds and related investment vehicles as well as vehicles initiated by private equity managers to be continuation vehicles or carry out co-investments or single investments for one or more assets. The Fund can invest through both primary investments and secondary investments, or a combination thereof.

All investments will be subject to ESG screening, where the deal flow is screened against certain harmful industries and activities, as well as an ESG due diligence, during which the ESG policy and strategy of the manager will be assessed. Turnstone will conduct post-investment monitorisation of its portfolio to ensure that the investment is aligned with the environmental and social characteristics promoted by the Fund.

Turnstone will monitor the attainment of the characteristics by collecting information from/about the managers on a yearly basis, primarily on the sustainability indicators. The Fund's portfolio will be monitored to uncover any incidents or potential exposure to harmful industries or activities which would require close follow-up with the lead sponsor to ensure satisfactory action and outcome.

The Fund does not use a reference benchmark to attain the environmental and social characteristics.

See Appendix 1 for translations of this summary.

1.2 No sustainable investment objective

This financial product promotes environmental and social characteristics, but does not have as its objective a sustainable investment. The Fund is not committed to making one or more sustainable investments.

1.3 Environmental and social characteristics of the financial product

As a fund-of-funds, the Fund promotes an overall responsible approach to ESG and sustainability throughout its investment activities. The activities are split into pre-investment and post-investment, through which we strive to contribute to moving the private equity industry towards more sustainable value creation. The Fund will seek to only invest in or with responsible investors which take due consideration to environmental, social and governance factors in its investment process.

ESG screening:

- The deal flow is screened against certain harmful industries and activities prior to continuing commercial due diligence and negotiations.

ESG due diligence and assessment:

- All investments will be subject to ESG due diligence and screening, during which the ESG policy and strategy of the manager will be assessed. Through this process, Turnstone seeks to ensure sufficient level of quality and institutionalization of the investment's or the manager's approach to ESG, and identify areas for improvement, as applicable. The findings from the due diligence forms part of the Fund's investment decision. For primary investments, Turnstone will seek acceptance for a side letter containing certain ESG-related investment criteria.

Monitoring and dialogue:

- Post-investment, Turnstone will conduct reasonable monitoring of the portfolio through information from fund managers to identify incidents or concerns related to ESG-related factors or potential exposure to harmful industries or activities. If potential concerns are identified, we will follow-up closely with the relevant manager to handle the matter appropriately, and ensure satisfactory actions are implemented.

1.4 Investment strategy

The Fund's objective is to seek capital growth by investing in private equity. The Fund may invest in private equity funds and related investment vehicles (including, but not limited to, annex funds, top-up funds, parallel funds or side cars) as well as vehicles initiated by private equity managers to be continuation vehicles or carry out co-investments or single investments for one or more assets.

The Fund can invest in portfolio funds both through primary investments (i.e. subscription of new interests or shares) and secondary investments (i.e. acquisition of existing interests or shares) or a combination thereof. The Fund will primarily seek to select portfolio funds that have a main geographic focus on Europe.

Turnstone will assess good governance practices by conducting due diligence on the underlying portfolio. For primary investments, Turnstone will assess whether the fund manager has sufficient policies and procedures in place to ensure that the portfolio fund only invests in portfolio companies which follow good governance practices, and/or seek acceptance for a side letter requirement to the same effect.

1.5 Proportion of investments

The Fund is expected to only make investments that are aligned with the environmental and social characteristics of the Fund. The Fund's exposure will be indirect when investing in private equity funds and related investment vehicles. The Fund's exposure will be direct when investing in single investments in one or more assets and when carrying out co-investments.

1.6 Monitoring of environmental and social characteristics

Turnstone will monitor the sustainability indicators used to measure the attainment of the environmental and social characteristics of the Fund by collecting information from the managers on an annual basis and through regular dialogue with the managers. The Fund's portfolio will also be monitored as set out above in 1.3.

1.7 Methodologies

Turnstone uses the following sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and social characteristics promoted by the Fund:

- Number of managers which have implemented an ESG policy and which effectively applies its policy in its investment activities
- Number of managers which integrate the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs) in its investment activities
- Number of managers with any breaches to its ESG policy
- Number of managers that are transparent about their ESG-related efforts on their websites

Turnstone will continuously assess and include other relevant sustainability indicators depending on data availability and data quality.

1.8 Data sources and processing

Data sources used to attain the environmental and social characteristics will mainly consist of information collected directly from the portfolio investments and information gathered by Turnstone through its monitoring of the portfolio for incidents or breaches. The data will be processed by Turnstone's team members. Turnstone does not expect to use estimated data.

1.9 Limitations to methodologies and data

There may be certain limitations to the methodologies and data due to lack of information or poor quality of information. As a fund-of-fund investor, the Fund is dependent on receiving accurate information from the managers it invests alongside with about the underlying portfolio investments. The potential limitations are sought mitigated through the ESG due diligence, during which the ESG policy and strategy of the manager is assessed, also with respect to the manager's approach to data gathering and reporting. Further, Turnstone will engage with the managers and/or portfolio investments on data availability, data quality and reporting to the extent considered appropriate by Turnstone in order to meet its own obligations.

1.10 Due diligence

Please refer to section 1.3 above for a brief outline of the due diligence carried out on the Fund's investments. Prior to the investment being made, Turnstone's compliance committee, consisting of a representative of Turnstone's legal and external compliance advisor, will review the investment case and ensure that the investment and the investment process is within the Fund's mandate.

1.11 Engagement policies

During the ownership period, Turnstone will regularly engage with the managers on various topics as considered relevant by Turnstone, which may include their approach to ESG. This may include discussions on use the use of ESG due diligence and screening of potential investments, the managers' ESG policy and strategy and post-investment monitoring of the investments. As a fund-of-fund investor, Turnstone's ability to engage directly with the underlying portfolio investments is limited.

1.12 Designated reference benchmark

The Fund does not use a reference benchmark to attain the environmental and social characteristics.
